ABSTRACT

The research study has intended the title of "waste management system in Municipal Council area, Batticaloa.

The purpose of this research study is to identify the weaknesses in the prevailing strategy/system and introduce a better and feasible strategy for disposal of waste. Therefore the study intended to carry out research in this area.

For the purpose of data collection totally 100 questionnaires were issued to the general public residing in 7 PHI division of Manmunai North. Each division is provided with questionnaires according to their population proportion. Pointed out the strength, weakness, opportunity and threats (SWOT) of the Municipal Council. The collected data were presented in the form of tables and pie charts.

According to the purpose of this study the present waste collection system has some draw backs, to over come these types of draw backs. As recommendation, submit some valuable and precious strategies with alternatives by way of converting the weaknesses in to strength, threats in to opportunities and use the opportunities in a profitable and environmentally sound manner, which suit the current economic position of Manmunai North.

By the better and feasible strategy implementation the environmental pollution is controlled or stopped. This is a very much valuable thing for us. So the strategy implementation is a useful one.
